Watercolour and pastel are wonderful ways to add colour, texture and pattern to any piece of artwork. Unfortunately many calligraphers find these two mediums daunting and don't take full advantage of the possibilities they afford. If you have always been curious about how to use watercolour and pastel, why not come and spend the day working with them to create background papers, decorative accents and stunning letters. Once we have created a variety of sample papers, we will explore how to turn them into cards, decorations and books using several variations on the lotus fold. See www.mootepoints.com for samples of Cherri's classes.
